Disclaimer

Our Physical Activity and Wellbeing training is a gentle, light and risk assessed programme, nevertheless, when participating in any physical activity, there can be a possibility of physical injury. Although that risk is very low for this training, participants must sign in to agree that they are choosing to voluntarily participate at entirely their own risk and that SOSCN is therefore not liable from any and all claims or causes of action arising from their participation in this training. Participants will be given the opportunity to read the disclaimer before the start of the session and asked to print and sign their name to confirm they agree to the terms of the disclaimer.
